

Astronauts 'Look Great'

Trio's Condition Pleases Doctors; Reunion With Families Set Sunday

ABOARD USS YORKTOWN (AP) — The Apollo 8 astronauts continue physical debriefings aboard this carrier today before flying to the United States and a belated Christmas with their families.

"They're in great shape," reported Dr. Clarence A. Jernigan, a space agency physician aboard the carrier.

Jernigan said Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders seemed to be in better condition than many astronauts who returned from Earth orbital missions.

"They look great and are looking better all the time, completely alert and very happy," Jernigan commented after the astronauts completed an extensive five-hour examination following their pinpoint splashdown in the Pacific Ocean Friday.

The astronauts had been in space for six days, three hours, during which they soared outward toward the moon for 69 hours, circled it for 20 hours, then made a 58-hour run back to their home planet.

They landed in darkness within three miles of this carrier and were quickly retrieved by helicopter. The landing point was 1,043 miles southwest of Hawaii.

Homeward Bound

Borman, Lovell and Anders planned to fly off the carrier about 4 p.m. CST today, heading for Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, where they are to transfer to a C141 transport plane for a flight to Ellington Air Force Base, Tex., near their Houston homes.

They are to arrive at Ellington at 5 a.m. Sunday, where their families will be waiting to welcome them.

After a late Christmas celebration, the astronauts will begin nine days of intensive debriefings in which experts will question them about all aspects of the flight, from the performance of the Saturn 5 rocket that fired them away from Earth, to their views of the lunar surface and the performance of their spaceship.

They've already described the moon as being a colorless, desolate spot, highlighted by boulder-strewn plateaus, crater-pocked plains and rugged mountains.

"Good Landing"

But preliminary analysis of what they saw and learned has strengthened America's desire to land men on the moon next year. The astronauts reported

3 Wives Waiting For Homecoming

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — For the world the fantastic moon saga of Apollo 8 ended Friday with the ship's Pacific Ocean splashdown. For the families of the three astronauts it won't end until 4 a.m. CST Sunday.

That's when planes will return Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders to Ellington Air Force Base near the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston.

"Frank's coming home," said Mrs. Borman Friday. "That's all that we're looking for."

In the crush of well-wishers that jammed their homes, the three wives still found time for private conversation with their husbands over special space agency telephones installed in each home.

"It was just great," said Valerie Anders, of her talk with her husband aboard the USS Yorktown.

Borman will find the youngest of his two teen-aged sons with a broken left hand. No one would say how it got broken.

And Anders' 4-year-old son Eric—the youngest of five children—was in bed with 102-degree temperature, but was allowed to come into the living room to watch the splashdown on television.

A mass at the Anders home after splashdown was recited by the Rev. Dennis Berry, a family friend from La Mesa, Calif., the astronaut's hometown. Mrs. Lovell went to communion early the morning of splashdown and Mrs. Borman's minister was in the Borman house at that anxiety-filled time.

This Christmas, which she spent without her husband, meant to her "the reality that we can get along together and have a deep and abiding faith in each other," Mrs. Borman said.

She said she thought the flight would bring the world closer. "This is our hope," she said. "This was their message to the world—we've got to get together."

Mrs. Anders said, "I really feel this peace on Earth, good will toward men coming this far from a lot of people—not only from friends, but from friends of friends.

"I feel very humble, very full of gratitude."

And Mrs. Lovell said no word in the dictionary can describe how she felt.

Record Passed In Road Deaths

By The Associated Press

Wisconsin's 1968 traffic fatality figure climbed past 1967's record total Friday with the death of a Wood County child. Her death brought the current figure to 1,150, compared with 1967's 1,149 record.

Michell Rae Tischendorf, 3, of rural Marshfield died Friday afternoon in a two-car crash at a highway intersection south of Marshfield.

She was in a car driven by her mother, who was among several persons injured.

Fox Cities — Snow accumulation expected to approach 10 inches over the past 24 hours by tonight. Easterly winds 25-35 m.p.h. shifting to northerly tonight. Snow diminishing to flurries tonight. Low tonight 10 above. Considerable cloudiness Sunday and a little colder; chance of flurries. Precipitation probability, 50 per cent tonight, 20 per cent Sunday.

Appleton — Observations at 10 a.m. for the preceding 24 hours: high 21, low 20. Barometer 29.40 and falling. Wind northeast at 25-35 m.p.h. Precipitation 7 inches in snow.

Read Report — All Wisconsin roads are reported in extremely hazardous driving condition due to accumulation and drifting of snow. Visibility late this morning was near zero throughout the state.

"Travel is not recommended," the State Highway Patrol said. Conditions expected to improve somewhat tonight as snow diminishes, although considerable drifting will continue.

Sun sets at 4:21 p.m.; rises Sunday at 7:29 a.m.

26 Die, Many Hurt in Fiery Crash at O'Hare

Several From State Were Aboard Flight of North Central Airlines

CHICAGO (AP) — A North Central Airlines twin-engine plane attempting to land at mist-covered O'Hare International Airport Friday night slammed into a hangar and burst into flames.

North Central officials and the Cook County coroner's office said 26 persons were killed and 19 were injured. The Convair

BULLETIN

The 26 victims of Chicago's airline crash Friday included a former Appleton man, Donald Bantes, about 30. Bantes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bantes of Wausau, had moved to that community from Appleton two weeks ago.

580 carried a crew of four and 41 passengers, one of whom was an off-duty North Central pilot.

Eight boys, members of a drum and bugle team which had just ended a practice session in the empty hangar, were among the 27 persons admitted to hospitals.

The crackup occurred when the plane apparently missed a runway in the fog and drizzle which shrouded O'Hare, the world's busiest airport.

Spokesmen for two hospitals near O'Hare said many of the injured persons suffered smoke inhalation.

First in History

The fatalities were the first in North Central's 20-year history. The airline operates in 11 Midwestern states and had flown 3.1 billion passenger miles without a fatality.

Forty members of the Vanguard Drum and Bugle Corps of suburban Des Plaines had been practicing in the hangar, which is shared by Braniff and Northwest Airlines, minutes before the turboprop crashed through the front doors and virtually disintegrated and exploded in flames.

Officials said they could not determine why the plane hit the hangar which is about a half-mile east of the runway. Federal Aviation Administration controllers said weather conditions were above the minimum for a landing on the intended runway. Visibility was about one mile.

One of the passengers, William De Groot, 21, of Sioux Falls, S. D., said, "The plane started to rock violently as we approached the airport. No one knew what was going on. The plane jolted. . . I was thrown from my seat. It was hot and it kept getting hotter. People were screaming and calling for help. . . There was a rush of cold air and someone at the door helped us out. Someone put me in an ambulance and brought me to the hospital."

Jeffereie Chiu, 18, a member of the Vanguards, said, "There were eight members of the corps and a few airline employees in the hangar. We heard an explosion. . . The plane had already fallen. I looked around to see where my boys were and they ran toward me. They were on fire. We all saw the fire and the walls collapsed toward us."

"I was not hurt," Chiu said, "since I was about 30 feet away from the others. I'm the only one that didn't get burned."

Many passengers from Wisconsin were among the persons injured.

Among victims identified by authorities was Walter Johns Jr., 17, a U.S. Marine from the Wausau-Merrill area who was pronounced dead at a Chicago hospital, and David Janaki, 25, an attorney for a government supply office in Milwaukee.

"We were coming in for a landing," said Colin Cook of Wausau. "Suddenly the plane dipped like it hit an air pocket, and then I saw a wing hit the ground. Next there was a crash."

New Year's Day Negotiations Viet Cong Want to Meet Again

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong today broadcast a new offer to meet with U.S. representatives on New Year's Day to negotiate the release of three American prisoners of war. It came only hours after an allied announcement that there will be no cease-fire Jan. 1.

A similar meeting Christmas Day broke down when U.S. representatives charged the Viet Cong tried to lure them into a "propaganda circus."

A U.S. spokesman said today he had no immediate comment on the new offer, broadcast by the Viet Cong's Liberation Radio. But on Friday another spokesman had said the United States is willing to "go anywhere, any time" to negotiate the release of the prisoners.

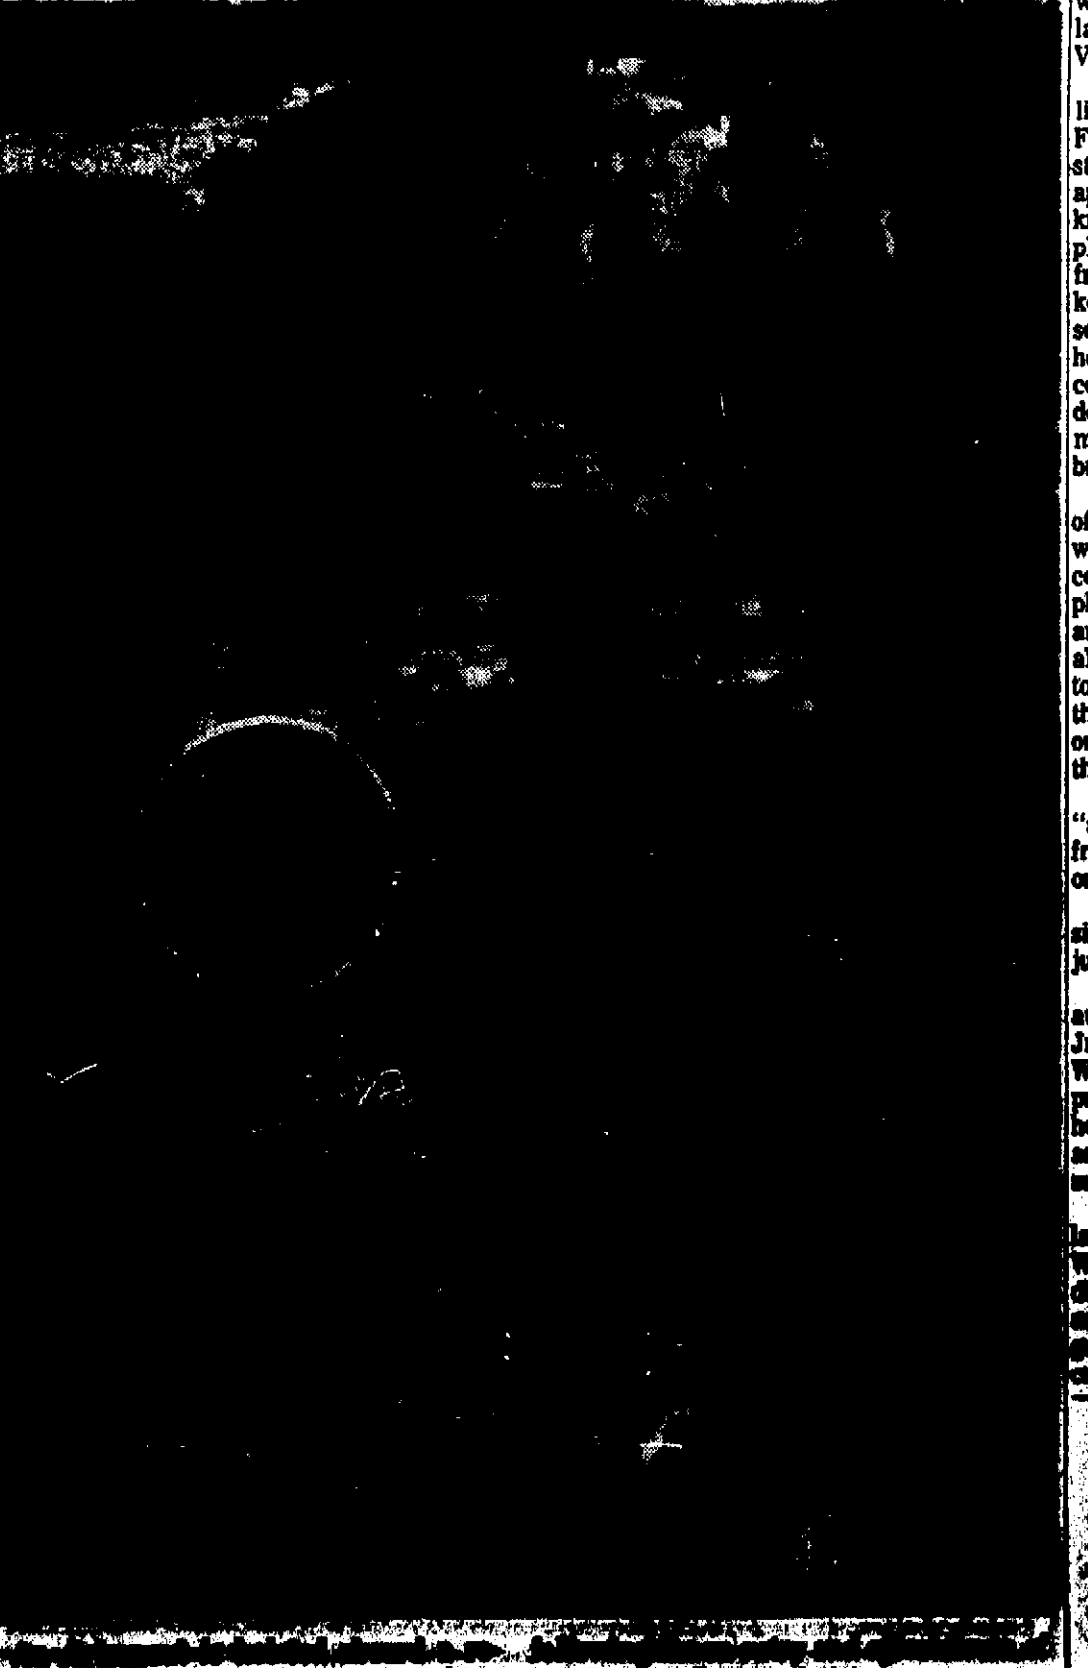

The prisoners are Spec. 4 James W. Brigham of Ocala, Fla.; Spec. 4 Thomas N. Jones, Lynnville, Ind., and Pfc. Donald C. Smith, Akron, Pa.

The Christmas Day meeting, held during a 24-hour holiday truce, broke down over Viet Cong demands that the American delegation discuss "formalities" prior to talks about freeing the prisoners. The U.S. team of 10 military officers said it would discuss only the date, time and place for the prisoner release.

The New Viet Cong representative said the prisoners were not being held in a prison but in a "safe place" and that they would be released if the U.S. military spokesmen said they were not being held during the Words often misused: The abbreviation, "i.e.," stands for the Latin words "id est," and means "that is." It should not be confused with "e.g." (exempli gratia), which means "for the sake of example."

Often mispronounced: Aleutian (the islands). Pronounce a-lyu-shan, accent second syllable.
Often misspelled: Mettle (spirit; courage). Metal (mineral). Meddle (to interfere).

Synonyms: Critical, cynical, censorious, captious, faultfinding, frolic, peevish, petulant.
Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: ANATHEMA; a solemn ban or curse pronounced by ecclesiastical authority, and accompanied by excommunication; hence, denunciation of anything accursed.

Anathema (Pronounce a-nath-ee-ma, accent second syllable). "I regard this manner of conducting business as an anathema."

Use Golden Cord

imitation gems (which can be bought in a variety store) you will need some household cement and something to use in boring small holes in the wood of the handle.

Make the holes all the way around the handle and from one end to the other. They need not be large or deep holes—just big enough for you to set a "gem" into each one, fastening it there with a bit of glue.

When the glue has dried, tie a length of gold-colored cord (perhaps a piece left over from Christmas gift wrapping) to the wire ends of the handle as in figure 1.

The pendant is then ready to be worn.

Round Trip to Moon Fulfills Promise Made Two Years Ago by Capt. Lovell

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Capt. James Lovell, USN, is a man of his word.

Two years ago this month the Wisconsin-born astronaut vowed he would get to the moon ... and back.

Lovell, America's No. 1 space ace, was interviewed by the writer Dec. 5, 1966 at Las Vegas when he showed up as a welcome but unexpected guest at the National League of Cities Congress.

Expected in 1969 while Lovell, the navigator for the Apollo moon shot, was almost on the button in navigating the spaceship to its splashdown in the Pacific today—his prediction on the moon flight was off by a year.

During an interview at the Dunes Hotel in Las Vegas, the former Milwaukeean said he anticipated the moon trip by the end of 1969.

At the time, the affable Lovell defended the nation's space program and said he was "raring to go on the Apollo flight to the moon."

"There's nothing stopping us now," he said with a grin. It was recalled that the then 38-year-old Lovell was a picture of confidence.

Lovell, married to a Milwaukee girl, had earlier been praised by James Webb, NASA director, who described the Wisconsin astronaut as "the most experienced astronaut in the United States today."

(Lovell, honored by the City of Milwaukee on his day in 1967, has spent more days in space than any other human. He logged more than 330 hours of flight on Gemini 7 and more than 94 hours as commander of the Gemini 12 mission. Added to that is the Apollo 8 expedition to the moon which came to a successful climax with the splashdown this morning.)

"I think the American people have accepted the space program as a way of life," Lovell said then, explaining that on his first Mercury flight he received letters from all parts of the country.

After his return from the 12-day Gemini flight he returned to mail such as routine letters, magazines, advertisements and bills, he added with a smile.

Valuable Photos
Lovell has always given considerable credit for the success of the flights to the thousands having direct and indirect connection with the U.S. space program.

He said photographs taken of the world proved most valuable, and the most recent moon trip is expected to shatter all previous picture-taking expectations.

Two years ago in discussing his space flights and walk, Lovell said at no time did he have any ill physical effects.

Lovell skirted a question about death, declaring, "We're too busy to think about it."

At the time Lovell also indicated harsh criticism in some circles about the cost of the space program would have no effect on the morale of the astronauts who would be riding to the moon in 1969.

"I'm getting ready for it (the flight) and I know the others are just as eager," Lovell said. Apollo 8 moon flight — 1968 has made it clear no truer words could have been spoken.

Lovell stands 5 feet 11 inches and weighs 170 pounds as the tallest and heaviest of the Apollo 8 crewmen.

And he is also considered the most extroverted, responding so rapidly to people and events that his fellow spacemen once tabbed him "Shaky."

Those who have met the man can't help but be impressed by his sincerity, wit and enthusiasm. He was meant to be a modern day Buck Rogers.

Paper on Rocketry
They say that while a midshipman at the U.S. Naval Academy in his younger days, Lovell was then thinking of rockets and space trips. He wrote a thesis on rocketry and sent it to high school sweetheart to type.

That Monday afternoon 24 months ago in Las Vegas, Lovell ended his conversation with the writer on a light note concerning his future.

"When we get back from the moon, I'll be looking forward to those old magazines, advertisements and bills," he said with a grin, which it was observed then, reflected a portrait of the man's courage and confidence.

But by his own words this week, Wisconsin's Capt. Lovell left no doubt he would be glad to get back to "Good 'Ol Mother Earth."

And now his return is already history.

Cannery Signs For 1969 Pea, Corn Supply

$6.5 Million Lomira Plant Construction Shows Progress

LOMIRA — California Cannery and Growers (CCG), grower-owned cooperative now well along in construction of its new $6.5 million vegetable cannery near Lomira, has assured its supply of corn and peas for the 1969 season.

Applications of 68 Wisconsin growers for membership in the cooperative, the largest of its kind in the United States, were approved by the CCG directors at their November meeting in San Francisco.

Bert N. Gruber, Wisconsin area manager for CCG, said that the cooperative is interested in obtaining additional tonnages of corn and peas for delivery after 1969 and of green beans which will be added to the pack in 1970. Plans call for a considerable expansion. Applications for membership are now being accepted and Gruber said interested growers should contact the CCG office at the plant site near Lomira.

California Cannery and Growers has 1100 members in California and annual sales of more than $100 million. It cans 10 fruit and vegetable crops in nine California plants and exports to 29 foreign countries. The cooperative was founded in 1957 on less than $1 million in capital put up by 437 growers.

About 60 per cent of its sales are in the private label, industrial and institutional fields, although it has a number of regional brands and one national brand — Diet Delight. The latter is the No. 1 low-calorie line in the U. S.

Man Forfeits $113 on Charge of Driving Without License

NEW LONDON — Allen V. Young, 18, route 2, Hortonville, forfeited $113 in Municipal Justice Court Thursday on a city police charge of operating a vehicle after revocation of his license.

The arrest followed a minor two-car accident Dec. 12 at Mill and Washington streets.

In addition to the fine, Young's operator's license is automatically revoked an additional year.

Bar Operator Fined $35 for Staying Open

Those in Tavern Tried to Oust Youth, Woman Says

Appleton tavern in which a 20-year-old youth fought with police early Thursday, Friday was fined $35 and costs or eight days in jail after she pleaded guilty of keeping the bar open after hours.

Mrs. Anita Holcomb, 48, 531 E. Maple St., operator of The Rendezvous, 208 N. Richmond St., was in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on a charge brought by Appleton police.

An Appleton policeman testified that a patrolman found eight persons in the tavern at 1:25 a.m. Thursday.

Customer Passed Out
Mrs. Holcomb told the court that patrons were still in the tavern because they were attempting to eject a customer who had passed out. She said the customer was "giving us a rough time." Mrs. Holcomb said no one was drinking after the 1 a.m. closing time.

While investigating the afternoon complaint, police said they were attacked by Richard Tetzlaff, 20, 1631 N. Richmond St., whom they said was lying on the pool table when they arrived. A patrolman complained of a back injury in the scuffle with Tetzlaff. Three policemen said their uniform coats were torn.

Tetzlaff, who appeared in court Thursday, was released on a $375 bond on charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. Judge Nick F. Schaefer continued his case to Jan. 3.

Ex-Milwaukeean asks New Trial in Marion Shooting

Claims Wounding of Woman at Cycle Gang Party Was Accidental

WAUPACA — The former Milwaukee man who pleaded guilty earlier this year to aggravated assault in connection conduct and were fined. Another member was charged with raping the woman but the charges were dismissed when the woman failed to appear at the trial.

Martin Testifies

Martin testified Friday that Peterson had told him that if he pleaded guilty to the reduced charge of aggravated assault he would receive a sentence of not over two years in prison. Peterson denied he made the statement to Martin and said he had told Martin the maximum sentence for the charge was up to five years. He would probably be eligible for parole in two to two and one-half years, he said.

The original charge against Martin was reckless use of a firearm, regardless of human life, which carries a 10-year prison term.

Martin was sentenced to the reformatory at Green Bay but was transferred to Waupun. The tattooed swastika on his forehead at the earlier trial was gone Friday. It was removed by surgery at the University Hospital, Madison, he said.

2 Suffer Minor Injuries in Crash

Two motorists suffered minor injuries when their autos collided at State 76 and Casselton Drive northwest of Appleton about 3:30 p.m. Friday.

The drivers were David R. Seefelt, 28, 414 W. Jennings St., New London, and Diane G. Steinbach, 18, 308 W. Union St., Waupaca. Outagamie County police did not state the exact nature of their injuries.

Hart Appointed
Waupaca Attorney Edward Hart has been appointed to represent Martin in his retrial attempt.

After Martin and Peterson testified, Judge Wendell McHenry said that he would render a decision on a new trial after he read the hearing transcript. His decision will come early in January, McHenry said.

Three motorcycle gang members pleaded guilty to disorderly

Heimer K. Lien, 45, Iola, escaped injury Friday afternoon when his truck, loaded with 22,000 pounds of milk, tipped onto its side on U. S. 10, three miles west of Appleton.

Lien, who was bound for Appleton, told Outagamie County police he was eastbound and got too far onto the shoulder of the road.

Israeli Attack on Airport 11 Planes Blown

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Helicopter-borne Israeli commandos raided Beirut International Airport with gunfire and explosives Saturday night. They destroyed 11 Lebanese planes in a lightning reprisal for an attack by two Arabs on an Israeli jetliner.

Working with clockwork precision, the commandos moved from plane to plane, shooting off passengers at gunpoint and planting explosives under the wings.

Blasts rocked the area and flames shot skyward from planes and buildings.

Flurries of machine gun fire peppered the airport terminal while screaming passengers ran for cover.

There were no official reports of casualties but one man said he saw a Lebanese soldier wounded.

Lasts 45 Minutes
The entire operation lasted about 45 minutes and in Tel Aviv the Israeli army said all members of the raiding party had completed the 50-mile trip back to Israel "without a scratch."

Only Lebanese aircraft were

Sun sets at 4:22 p.m., rises Monday at 7:29 a.m. Venus, always the brightest planet, has grown increasingly prominent in the southwestern sky this month. Its brilliance will increase still more in the next few months.

Bucher Explains His 'Confession'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pueblo skipper has reported that threats to kill his crewmen by one contributed to his false confession to violation of North Korean waters, authorities disclosed Saturday.

This and other details of systematic terror tactics are contained in a detailed report submitted to Secretary of State Dean Rusk by Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, captain of the intelligence ship, who was freed along with 11 surviving crewmen last Sunday.

The report was submitted in response to President Johnson's order for a thorough investigation after Bucher's first reports of beatings and intimidation at the hands of the North Koreans during the American ship's 13-month captivity.

Wide Publicity
U.S. officials said Saturday that details will be made public after the investigation has been completed.

Short of taking punitive military action, which is not in the picture — the only thing the United States can do about mistreatment of the crewmen is to make it as bad as possible. It is clear that this will be done.

One possibility is the sending of a note to the North Koreans.

H-Bomb Exploded by Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Red China announced belatedly today it had exploded "another hydrogen bomb" described as a new device and "thereby successfully conducted another thermonuclear blast."

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said 23 hours earlier that the device was set off Friday at the Lop Nor testing grounds in Sinkiang Province of northwest China. It estimated its explosive force at three million tons of TNT.

The Chinese announcement was carried by Peking Radio in a Chinese language broadcast, followed by an English language communiqué from the New China (Hsinhua) News Agency.

This was Red China's eighth successful nuclear test since December 1964. The Chinese have announced the other successes on the day they occurred. There was no indication of the cause of the delay in announcing this one.

"China exploded another hydrogen bomb over her west region on Dec. 27, 1968, and thereby successfully conducted another thermonuclear blast," the communiqué said.

It called the success "another victory for the invincible thought of Mao Tse-tung, another fruitful result of the great proletarian cultural revolution and a significant gift to the forthcoming ninth national congress of the party."

Japan condemned the test. Japanese weather stations checked for fallout and five jet fighters flew over western Japan to collect radioactive dust, which usually rides the jet stream from China.

Peking said success of the hydrogen bomb test "marks a new leap forward in the development of China's nuclear weapons."

It then quoted one of Mao's thoughts: "We cannot just take the beaten track traversed by other countries in the development of technology and trail behind them at a snail's pace. We must break away from conventions and do our utmost to adopt advanced techniques in order to build our country into a powerful modern Socialist state in not too long a historical period."

No other details were given.

Speculation in the United States and Japan is that China is moving toward creating nuclear warheads for long-range missiles.

Red China's latest communiqué came without any advance announcement. It was forthcoming as it has done on several occasions in the past.

Price Minister Eisaku Sato's government said the test "utterly ignored the sincere desire of peace of the Japanese people" and "ran counter to world public opinion at a time when prospects for easing world tensions and prevention of the spread of nuclear weapons are growing rapidly."

Mayor Setsuo Yamada of Hiroshima, where an estimated 200,000 persons were killed in World War II A-bomb blast, called his protest to Premier Chou En-lai in Peking.

"I strictly protest against your series of nuclear experiments on behalf of the citizens of Hiroshima who have experienced the first atomic bomb in the world," Yamada said. "Nuclear weapons are not the ultimate weapons for guaranteeing the safety of nations."

Stradivarius Violins in Court

LONDON (AP) — The tired businessman sitting in the divorce court wasn't thinking about getting a divorce—he was fiddling away blissfully on his $50,000 Stradivarius violin.

London's cathedral-like Divorce Court Building was ringing with classical music the way it does every Tuesday night.

The black-robed lawyers were gone and the sordid details of adultery, desertion and other pangs of failing marriages gave way to the sounds of Haydn and Handel.

The courthouse corridor is a rehearsal hall for London's Civil Service Orchestra, probably the only amateur group in the world with four owners of Stradivarius violins in the string section.

"We don't bring our Stradivarius along regularly," said Jack Morrison, 68-year-old first violinist. "They are for virtuoso playing, and they are too valuable."

"I brought mine because I just got it and I wanted to show it to the others."

Morrison, chairman of a bank, joined the Stradivarius owners—there are only about

Five Murders, Suicide Evident in Dane County

MADISON (AP) — A housewife, her wrists slashed, died Friday after five of her children were strangled as other members of their family slept, unaware of the tragedy spreading through their rural dwelling.

Coroner Clyde Chamberlain of Dane County described the deaths "tentatively as murder-suicide" and said an investigation would continue.

The bodies of the children, aged 3 to 9, were found in bedrooms of the two-story frame home near Deerfield. The mother, Mrs. Edward W. Bodeman, 34, was found dead in one of the bedrooms.

Chamberlain said the women's wrists were slashed, and that a straight razor was in a room. He said it was not immediately known whether she had strangled or had tried to commit suicide.

The children, Chamberlain said, died of asphyxiation from strangulation.

"This is the worst tragedy in Dane County since I've been coroner," he said.

The victims died before dawn Friday. Bodeman, a Madison factory worker, told authorities he had fixed breakfast and gone to work unaware of the deaths.

Chamberlain said another Bodeman youngster, Michael, 15, and Bodeman's father, Arthur, similarly had fixed themselves breakfast and had returned from doing chores before the bodies were discovered.

Michael said he went to the bedrooms to investigate after the children had not appeared for their breakfast. He then called his grandfather.

Chamberlain said Bodeman refused his wife had been under unusual strain in recent months. He said the men told him: "The men said the woman was going to get her."

Trump Is Good Only One Time

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You can't use a trump for ruffing after you've already used it for drawing trumps. The way out of this maze is to avoid drawing trumps in the early stages of play. The point is illustrated in a hand played by Atlanta expert Richard Freeman during the recent national bridge tournament in Coronado, Calif.

man during the recent national bridge tournament in Coronado, Calif.

East took the first trick with the ace of hearts and switched to the queen of clubs. Freeman stepped up with the ace of clubs cleared the king of hearts out of the way and drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and king.

Freeman has known how to count to 13 since his Quiz Kid days of almost 30 years ago. He knew that a trump was still out, but he didn't want to draw it.

Instead he cashed dummy's good hearts, discarding clubs from his hand. If an opponent had ruffed, Freeman would get a club in exchange for losing a trump.

Since nobody could ruff, Freeman got away scot-free with his discards. It was still too early to ruff a club since then he would have to lead diamonds from his own hand.

Six Persons Die in Fire Two Children Included Among New York Victims

GRANVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Fire from an exploding woodstove roared through a two-story frame house near this eastern New York community early Friday. Six persons perished.

A 29-year-old woman leaped from a second-floor room to the safety of the frozen ground below. One of her three children, Thomas Bushee, 10, fled when he saw a mushrooming fire in the kitchen of the small frame house.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bushee, 29, and her son were hospitalized, suffering from frostbite, shock and cuts and bruises.

The fire broke out in 15-below-zero cold. Four bodies had been recovered from the rubble by 9 a.m.

The dead were Joseph Bushee, 32, owner of the home, his brother, Edward, 36, Mrs. Nellie Williams, 68, Fred Steele, 65, Ruth Jane Sumner, 5, and Walter Carl Sumner, 10.

Mrs. Williams was Bushee's grandmother. Steele was Bushee's uncle.

Thomas Bushee ran to the home of the nearest neighbor, almost a half mile away, to sound the alarm.

The house was in flames by the time police and firemen arrived.

The house was in the Washington County hamlet of Raceville, north of here near the Vermont border.

After 13 Years, Admitted Slayer Turns Himself In

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Police say Robert M. Childers, 49, has turned himself in on charges of killing a magistrate 13 years ago because he said the matter was worrying him to death and had to get it off his conscience.

Childers told police in Mount Sterling, Ky., he shot trial Magistrate Charles Leslie Moats with a shotgun because Moats had once "put him in the house of detention."

Maryland state troopers brought Childers back from Kentucky the past week and charged him with murder.

Moats, 71, was found dead April 23, 1955, at his home, beaten and shot in the chest.

Sgt. Charles Kratzer of the Mount Sterling, Ky., police force, quoted Childers as saying he "couldn't sleep or get any rest and he just had to get it off his conscience."

Among the second violins are the senior official receiver in bankruptcy of the High Court, Wilfred Whitehead, and a lady executive from the Ministry of Education. One viola is the under secretary at the Ministry of Technology, and the amateur leader of the orchestra is the chief superintendent of typists at the Inland Revenue Department.

"It's exciting that Mr. Morrison brought his Stradivarius to a rehearsal," said senior official receiver Whitehead. "But I was so nervous I was afraid to touch it."

Your Problems Academic Caste System Not Good Idea

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We moved to this fine city during the summer and have found it a friendly place. We want to stay here for both business and social reasons but our children are miserable.

John and Mary are respectful, well-behaved children who have never been in any kind of trouble. They have always loved school. Now they hate it. Every morning one or the other (or both) complains of a headache or a stomachache — anything to stay home. Last week we got to the root of the problem. The teachers in both the third and the fifth grade seat the students according to academic standing. The moment a person walks into the classroom he can see who the "smart" ones are and who the "dumb" ones are.

Our son happens to be a bright student so we know he is not "sour grapes." He says he feels sorry for the kids who are in the "dunce seats" as he calls them and we believe him. Our daughter started out somewhere in the middle but has steadily been moved back. Now he is in the "boob row."

My husband is ready to ask his boss for a transfer. He says he can't be happy when his kids are miserable. What do you suggest? — Lubbock Mother

Dear Mother: I agree that this academic caste system is a poor one and ought to be abolished. A committee of mothers who share your point of view should discuss this discriminatory seating arrangement with the teacher.

Landers

If you fail to get satisfaction, go to the principal.

As a rule I am opposed to parents taking their children's side against teachers because the teacher is usually right. In this instance, however, I feel the children's objections are valid.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You receive many letters from teenage girls who want to go steady but whose parents are against it. This is a letter from a girl who does not want to go steady, but whose parents insist. Will you help me?

My mother and father were born in another country. They say a girl should go with one boy at a time or she will get a bad reputation. They have the idea that a girl who dates several boys get asked out because the boys who have scored pass the word around.

I'm 16 years old now and there is no one person I want to date exclusively. The boy my mother thinks I should go steady with is the worst sex maniac in the whole school but she doesn't know it and I wouldn't tell her. He has told my mother he'd like me as his steady girl and now she won't get off my back. Please help me. — Need You

Dear Need: I don't approve of going steady and I have spelled out the reasons in this column many times. On the other hand, I don't approve of a girl dating 12 different fellows within two weeks either.

The ideal arrangement is to go with five or six different boys and not get too chummy with any of them.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Copyright 1968)

I did... and almost fell asleep it was so comfy. And you don't even have to remove the outer wrapper. Also great, Chickadee, when you've got a head full of those awful hair curlers.

Thanks heaps for this one.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

It's most annoying to forget the name of the new people down the street, the names of people with whom you did business a year ago, or the name of the new plant you received.

So I bought a hard-cover composition book and as soon as possible, I write these things I might forget in the book. It does away with the small slips of paper I usually lost anyway.

There is no definite order in my book, but the names are all there when I want them, and appearance, let me tell you how it's surprising how often we refer to it.

Terese Laing

You've a wonderful idea, Terese. After all, each of us is flattered to be called by name and this extra effort on your part to recall them is sure to be rewarding.

I, too, am able to remember names a little better if I write them down and take a "mental picture" of them.

Talks With Russia Vital

One of the most urgent matters facing the new administration of Richard Nixon is talks with the Soviet Union over ways in which the new arms race can be slowed down. But it does not appear that President Johnson should hold such talks in the waning days of his own Administration.

President Johnson quite rightly considers the discussions extremely important. He had agreed to meet Premier Kosygin last August probably in Switzerland. But the day before the talks were scheduled, the Russian troops invaded Czechoslovakia and Washington cancelled them. Later President Johnson's fervent desire to go down in history as a president of peace despite the war in Vietnam has encouraged him to make it known that he would now be willing to hold the talks.

But there is very little that President Johnson could commit the United States to do unless President-elect Richard Nixon agreed to be bound by such commitments he might make. Mr. Nixon has not made any such agreement and reportedly is considerably opposed to any high level meeting before he takes office. In the past Mr. Nixon — and his designated Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird — have expressed the opinion that the United States must maintain military superiority over the Soviet Union, hardly a basis for disarmament talks. But whether or not his opposition at this time to a conference between President Johnson and Premier Kosygin is in the fear of what might be promised which he could or would not deliver, there seems little sense to a pre-January 20th meeting.

However, the need for the talks between the new Administration and representatives of the Soviet Union can hardly be overestimated before the United States goes ahead with extensive deployment of the anti-missile Sentinel system or the Russians jump into a new phase of missile construction. The costs alone make such talks important. The threat of annihilation makes them essential.

Taking Advantage of Federal Aid

Development of open space areas into parks and the construction of bridges represent burdensome capital outlays which communities find it difficult to swing on their own, especially during these days of the mounting property tax rate and the shrinking dollar.

However, cities like Appleton with definite plans for the future may not be cognizant of the fact but there are state and federal aids available for major public improvement projects in the areas of park-recreation, and bridge construction.

The Appleton Park-Recreation Commission has been talking about developing a 40-acre portion of the Langedyk property just to the north of the city into a municipal park for the past four years. Between the commission and Common Council, progress has been at a painful standstill.

The city supposedly has a special committee charged with the responsibility of checking out all areas in which municipal projects may qualify for state and federal aids. It also belongs to the Fox Valley Council of Governments (a regional planning commission) that is in the position to point out where and how the city of Appleton might qualify for pending projects.

Now that Appleton's communitywide workable program has been certified by the federal government, it might be well for city officials and planners to lay the groundwork for applying for aids to which the city is likely to be entitled for park and recreation site development.

And while the proposed multi-million dollar Oneida Street high level bridge project may be a few years off, it is not too early for exploring Appleton's chances for state and federal aids for the long-range project. It would seem the project could qualify for federal aids when it comes to land acquisition and landscaping, and a partial state grant for the actual construction.

These are things city officials should be ever-conscious of as they chart public works programs for the future.

Conservative Victory in Guyana

Lyndon Forbes Burnham's People's National Congress Party won what is considered a surprise victory in the first general elections ever held in independent Guyana this month. But the results are not simply a racial or a political victory.

Guyana is split racially between East Indians and Negroes. When Great Britain agreed to its independence, it held elections four years ago that were carefully controlled. There was proportional representation so that the East Indians couldn't gain complete control and there was a coalition arranged between Mr. Forbes' party and the United Force, a conservative group which feared the East Indian vote because of their leader, Dr. Cheddi Jagan and his wife, Janet, outspoken Marxists, admirers of Fidel Castro and severe critics of what they usually call the "imperialist" United States. In 1964, Mr. Forbes was able to form a government but he never had solid control and things began to disintegrate last fall.

This time Mr. Forbes and his party worked out a new gimmick whereby Guyanese living out of the country were eligible to vote. Even those who had never been to Guyana but were of Guyanese parentage were encouraged to send in their votes and they were almost entirely for Mr. Forbes. But, ironically, Forbes also won a clear majority in Guyana and he never would have needed the overseas vote, the legality and ethics of which certainly are in doubt.

Dr. Jagan is charging fraud and that Guyana has become only "a puppet of American and British imperialism." Certainly the United States and Great Britain authorities hoped for Jagan's defeat. It is not only that he is a Marxist but that he has encouraged the racial split since the East Indians are the prosperous storekeepers of Guyana and the Negroes have been the more impoverished.

In the last four years the United States has actively helped Mr. Forbes. In per capita aid from Washington, Guyana is second only to Panama where the American interest is obvious. Mr. Forbes used the money to good advantage, building roads, sea walls and encouraging agricultural production. His "peace and prosperity" theme was successful and not only among conservatives and Negroes. A third of his slate for parliament was non-Negro and he obviously gained a lot of votes among the East Indians.

But Dr. Jagan and his Chicago-born wife have not given up. They have threatened to bring the government down by demonstrations and strikes which certainly could blunt the effect of Mr. Forbes' job-increasing programs. But in so doing Dr. Jagan might also lose more support among his East Indian followers. Ideologies and even racism have a way of disappearing or at least fading into the background when economic considerations are applied.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two just days after Christmas And all through the land, All thoughts were of New Year's, And celebrations so grand. Plans for the future Were molded with care, 'Mid hopes for a new world, Without war, without fear. But, in the time yet remaining 'Fore the year doth expire, Let us do some detaining. . . . And in this ebttime of December Let us remember Nineteen-sixty-eight.

Presidential election years always are exciting, surprise-filled times. But 1968 outdid them all as an incredible year of unpredictable political events, of tragedy and turnabouts, of victims and votes.

Richard M. Nixon had risen from the political dead and was in the race — again. Other Republicans put their toes to the presidential mark. President Lyndon B. Johnson was expected to be the Democratic nominee again.

ROMNEY FIRST DROP-OUT The string of unexpected events began at the end of February: Gov. Romney of Michigan, considered a leading contender for the presidency, dropped out of the race.

In March, Sen. Eugene McCarthy surprised all with his showing in the New Hampshire primary. And Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, in the same room where his brother announced his candidacy in 1960, told the nation he was a contender. Then the political bombshell: President Johnson announced he would not run again for president. Vice President Hubert Humphrey entered the race. Former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama put in his bid as a third party candidate. Sen. George McGovern announced his candidacy, late.

Then, riding the crest of a presidential primary victory in California, Sen. Kennedy was assassinated by a gunman. The nation again mourned a murdered Kennedy, with recollections of the first.

Violence in the streets darkened the Democratic convention in Chicago, where Humphrey was formally nominated. On the day of reckoning, Nov. 3, the counting was slow, close. But, the next morning it was clear: Nixon was the one.

Another assassination stabbed at the heart of the country in April as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a Nobel Peace Prize-winner, was shot by a sniper in Memphis. Anger led to violence, particularly in the nation's capital, where National Guardsmen were called in. Other events, great and small, light and deadly. Jacqueline Kennedy married Greek millionaire Aristotle Onassis.

The Soviet Union invaded Czechoslovakia to bring about a process of "normalization." Thousands died daily in the horrible Biafran-Nigerian civil war.

Katharine Hepburn, Rod Steiger and the film, "In the Heat of the Night" won the Academy Awards. America aimed for a moon landing, sending three astronauts into lunar orbit at Christmas.

GLIMMERS OF HOPE Glimmers of hope peeked through the gloom of the Vietnam war. During the celebration of the lunar new year — Tet — the Viet Cong launched offensives in South Vietnam's major cities and districts and American casualties set grim records in February, and again in May. Then, peace talks started, May 10, and a complete halt to bombing of North Vietnam was announced on Oct. 31. The peace talks negotiations moved slowly, very slowly, and it wasn't until December that they were expanded to include South Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

The USS Pueblo, a Navy intelligence ship, was captured by the North Koreans in January. Heart transplants, the first one occurring in December of 1967, were performed on some 100 patients in 1968. The Green Bay Packers defeated the Oakland Raiders, 33-14, to win the Super Bowl. The Detroit Tigers won the best-of-seven from the St. Louis Cardinals for baseball's World Series championship. Twenty planes were hijacked to Cuba in a year of the "sky pirates."

And more. Triumph and tragedy. Heartbreak and hope. And, finally, 1968.

Wisconsin Report

Educational Television Appears At Least Another Two Years Away

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Any lingering belief among the enthusiasts for non-commercial television that the state government would build a network of such stations to cover the state must now subside in the face of the refusal of the State Building Commission to recommend such action to the legislature.

Because the legislature is under the control of men who have scarcely managed to conceal their skepticism about "educational television," as its boosters prefer to call it, the Building Commission decision almost surely means that no action will be taken for the next two years, at the least.

For 20 years the idea of a tax-supported television network has been bandied about. Two years ago, with the bait of possible federal aid for such an enterprise, the legislature set up an agency to draw up a plan for such a project. But it showed its skepticism, simultaneously, by providing that half a dozen members of the legislature should sit on the governing board of the network, as monitors, in a way of speaking.

Gov. Warren Knowles vetoed that idea, holding that it was an improper invasion of an executive branch. Supporters of public television were happy. The governor's action meant, they were sure, that the educational establishment would run the network.

RESERVE HAS DEEPENED Since that time a combination of events has served to deepen the reserve about a state-owned TV network among the men who hold the state's purse-strings, starting with the reality that the federal subsidies that were thought to be available for the asking, in fact, are not available.

That means that the state, in a time of increasingly also showing programs that have no relation to the academic uses of the medium in the classroom, and sometimes, programs that are poorly disguised competitors of commercial shows. One legislator the other day noted that a sponsor had bought time on the Milwaukee public television station to show a political affairs commentator whose face and ideas are freely available in the commercial media. News reports picked off the regular news wires, old motion pictures, institutional promotion including University of Wisconsin athletics, are other broadcast materials.

CONCERN OF POLITICS Some legislators and others are fearful that such a network may be exploited for even more questionable purposes, including the political interests of its managers. The state radio network now makes time available to politicians, including legislators, which is probably as effective a device to gain their good will as could be found. Would state TV be used in that fashion too? This reporter's mail indicates that a substantial number of citizens have thought about the possibility.

At the building Commission meeting the other day, both Gov. Knowles and Sen. J. J. Leonard, whose work on the commission cannot be construed as hostile to public education (the University of Wisconsin, for one, should be grateful that he has held the commission seat in recent years) wondered if "educational television" is really what the champions of this cause want, or whether it should not be more accurately called "educationally-owned" television.

The conviction is spreading that it is not education in the classroom receiving set sense that is desired by the backers of this program, but a substitute for commercial television with its sometimes annoying commercial interruptions and other deficiencies conceded even by some of the proprietors in the field.

Let's Put Free-Loaders To Work Shovelling Snow

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

Now with all the snow around why doesn't the city put some of the free loaders, welfare recipients on the job without discrimination who are in good health. It's impossible to get near some of the parking meters unless you carry a shovel. On S. State between College Ave. and Lawrence St. try it. If I wouldn't have had a shovel in my car I couldn't have made it. The taxpayers are carrying too big a load for our city fathers. At least there is one trying to reduce the load and that's Mayor Buckley, but don't seem to get enough support from his fellow workers. One more question, if or when will we get some action on the low rental home for the low income aged people? E.F.L.

'Good Education an Inheritance'

100 YEARS AGO Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Dec. 26, 1868.

We are gratified to learn that there is an increased interest generally manifested throughout the county in the public schools.

Every parent should remember that a good education is a better inheritance for the young man than real estate, or bonds and mortgages. Hence, no pains should be spared, nor expense to beautify and adorn the school-house and make it attractive for the young. None but competent and good teachers should be employed.

Our County Superintendent, Lieut. D. J. Brothers, does his full share of labor to make the public schools a success. Now let the people do theirs.

Parents Aren't Concerned About Drinking and Drugs

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

Every day we read articles in the paper about the drugs being used by our young folks. I was looking out my window tonight, after the pretty snow fall, and saw a young girl maybe 14 or 15 stumbling along the road; she fell on her face, as she tried to get over a pile of snow, (she was drunk). It makes me sick, she got that from a girl friend's home who is married. Why in God's name, isn't something done?

Drinking is heavy among our young kids too. Why is that allowed? The time to stop something is in the beginning.

What is being allowed to happen to our young folks? Is this drug problem, as well as drinking problems, is allowed to continue, just what kind of children will be born from this generation.

For God's sake, parents of young folks, wake up and take an interest in what your boy or girl is doing and if they are acting strange, find out why. Surely they can't be using drugs, or liquor without parents knowing. Parents just aren't caring, they're so wrapped up in their own good times that they can't be bothered. They are missing the real joys in life, and that's raising your family to be respectable men and women, as God in Heaven expects of every parent.

India Prepares Biographies

NEW DELHI (AP)—Thirteen hundred prominent personalities will be featured in a series of national biographies now under compilation by the Institute of Historical Studies. The project, first of its kind in India, is based on the model of British national biographies.

The first three volumes, expected to be published by 1970, will cover the period between 1800 and 1907, and will naturally include the whole of the Indian subcontinent.

A post-independence volume will cover national personalities from 1907 until 1950. Supplementary volumes will be brought out at 10-year intervals.

Britisher Alan Bates Comes to Hollywood

Stricken by Flu, Young Actor Only Sees
Sunset Boulevard; Discusses His Career

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — British actor Alan Bates spent a large part of his first Hollywood visit in his hotel room, nursing the Hong Kong flu.
"I did get to take a ride along Sunset Boulevard," he commented with a balafout smile. Because of his indisposition, he saw little else, nor did Hollywood see much of him. Too bad. Because Alan Bates is one of the most admired of the young English actors.
He is also one of the least known. Lacking the flamboyance of Richard Burton or Peter O'Toole, he is little recognized by the American public, despite a string of topnotch parts in successful films.
Wants Good Parts
"The reason may be because I've played such diverse roles," he remarked. "That's really what I'm interested in, not the money. Oh, I suppose you hear a lot of actors say that, but it is true in my case. I enjoy money — don't get me wrong. But to play a good part I am willing to take a cut in salary against a percentage of the profits."
"I think that makes sense: to share some of the risk on a worthwhile project that might not be assured of commercial success. I did that on my last picture, 'Women in Love,' a D.H. Lawrence story that wouldn't have been made if we hadn't all worked for less."
The diverse roles of Alan

Bates have ranged from the wide-eyed square of "Orpheus in the Underworld" to the libertine of "Georgy Girl," from the sullen shepherd of "Far from the Madding Crowd" to the persecuted inmate of "The Finner." The latter was the reason for his visit here. His performance may win an Academy Award nomination.

He arrived in full beard, which may be another reason he went largely unrecognized. The beard was required for his last three roles — "Richard III" at Canada's Stratford, "The Finner" and "Women in Love" — and he intends to divest himself of it as soon as he is assured of no retakes on the last one.

Though quiet-spoken, Bates appears to be strong-minded where his career is concerned. He has had a few offers to make films in Hollywood, but so far has found nothing to attract him. At any rate, he has kept almost continuously at work on American-financed pictures in Europe.

How did he learn his trade? "From RADA, repertory and one year in television," he replied. RADA stands for Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts, a fertile training ground for English actors. Among his fellow students, were Peter O'Toole, Albert Finney, Tom Courtney.

Then there was repertory, which he manages to pronounce almost with two syllables. Bates drew his seasoning with the Midland Theater Company, which played four provincial towns, and with the English State Company at London's Royal Court Theater.

The actor cited repertory as the major source of England's unending supply of fine actors. "There are theaters throughout England that offer excellent opportunities for young performers," he said. "Not only in the classics. Fortunately there are many new plays that are also in repertory."

If America could somehow develop its regional theaters, he added, this country might also benefit from an outpouring of acting talent. But despite the efforts of the Ford Foundation and others, it hasn't happened here yet.

Satchmo Recording, 'Wonderful World' Top Pop in Britain

LONDON (AP) — Louis Armstrong's recording of "Wonderful World" was proclaimed today the No. 1 pop disc in Britain for 1968.

The Beatles took the title of top pop chart stars for the year — as distinct from the popularity of any one record.

The charts are prepared by two rival entertainment weeklies, Disc and Music Echo and The Melody Maker.

The Beatles' protégé, Mary Hopkin, was top girl in the disc chart with her world hit "These Were The Days," and also won top individual girl star.

American Herb Alpert took eighth place with "This Guy's In Love," his first discing record.

Fans From Coast to coast are appealing to ABC to keep "Peyton Place" on the air. # Badgers, Marquette Will Clash Tonight

Both Record Victories In Tourney

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette's low-key approach and Wisconsin's recovery skill Friday swept the two old rivals into the finals tonight of the Milwaukee Classic basketball tournament.

Marquette downed Army 62-42, the lowest total output by a pair of opponents in the tourney's seven-year history. The Badgers trailed until they found the mark from the free throw line, and pulled ahead of Ohio for a 74-68 victory.

Army and Ohio meet for third place at 7:30 p.m. prior to the Badger-Warrior title match. Wisconsin is the classic's defending champion.

Army, now 6-2, had entered the tournament as one of the nation's best clubs on defense. The 104-point total of the Cadets and Warriors is nine points less than the 1964 low of 61-52, when UCLA beat Marquette.

Only 13 Field Goals Marquette held Army to only 13 field goals, and Cadet coach Bob Knight called the Warrior defense "as good as anything we've faced this season."

Marquette, picking up its sixth victory in eight games, dominated the rebound department. It had 42-30 recovery advantage over Army, helping explain why Army got away so few shots—only 43.

The Cadets held Marquette's George Thompson to 15 points, but Ric Cobb added an equal amount. Cobb and Thompson were roughed up during the game, and sat out the closing minutes.

Wisconsin and Ohio played a more heated game, frequently trading the lead and tying it up 62-62 with 4:04 left to play.

Junior college transfer Craig Mayberry broke up the 62-62 deadlock with free throws, then sank a jump shot as Wisconsin pulled away.

Jays Beat New Holstein

Big Third Quarter Leads Menasha to Non-Loop Triumph

NEW HOLSTEIN—A profitable third quarter, in which it scored 23 points to only six for its opponents, provided Menasha High School with a 79-62 triumph over New Holstein in a non-conference tussle here Friday night.

For the Bluejays, who now are idle until Jan. 10, the victory boosted their record to 3-6. It was their first non-conference decision in five tries.

The Menashas were on the short end of 39-36 halftime count but went right to work in the third quarter to assume control.

They collected the first seven points of the second half for a 43-39 lead. Ron Haack collected a basket and a free throw, and Terry Noeller and Brad Schliem each posted fielders.

Broke Drought New Holstein broke the drought with two points but Haack counted twice from the floor for a 46-41 score.

With the count 49-45, the victors totaled the last 10 points of the third stanza and added the first six of the fourth to pad their lead to 65-45.

Noeller and Jack Taves each had three baskets in the barrage while Haack and Pat Jakubek each counted one. New Holstein's third quarter output was restricted to two baskets and as many free throws.

The Bluejays continued to roll in the last stanza and led by 15 points or more.

Haack hooped 24 points on nine baskets and six free throws to lead the Menasha scorers. He had six points in each of the first two periods and eight in the third.

Noeller was runnerup with 15 markers, including four third period baskets, while Buzz Zeininger chipped in with 10.

Mike Heus led the Huskies with 13 points, Bob Ausloos netted 10.

The Bluejays made 30 field goals and 19 free throws in 29 attempts. New Holstein posted 25 fielders and 12 charities in 18 tries.

MENASHA (14-22-23-20 — 79) Noeller 7 1 0; Schliem 1 4 1; Jakubek 3 0 2; Haack 9 6 0; Zeininger 3 4 3; Walter 1 2 0; Burrows 0 1 2; Taves 3 0 0; Sitzberger 2 0 0; Van Bommel 1 1 3. Totals 30-19-11. FTM 10.

Extreme Pain Barry, who was in extreme pain in the dressing room, will miss the Oaks' game tonight in Indianapolis. He flew to Oakland and will be treated there.

"I thought it snapped and then I thought it came right back in," Barry said, referring to the knee. "It never felt like I ripped something. It just felt like a blow."

Meanwhile, Eastern Division leader Minnesota upped its lead over Kentucky to seven games, winning for the 20th time in 29 starts.

The Pipers, playing without star center Connie Hawkins, out with the flu, were paced by Charlie Williams with 32 points.

The Pipers came from a 52-46 deficit at halftime with a big third period. Louie Dampier led the Colonels with 35 points.

Jimmy Jones sparked New Orleans with 23 points and tied a team record with 13 assists.

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The condition of the weather, Daryle Lamonica and Warren Wells were all that remained for discussion today as the Oakland Raiders and the New York Jets geared up for Sunday's American Football League championship game.

The weather involved snow, rain, wind and cold. Lamonica, the Raiders' quarterback, was involved with a sore right thumb and Wells with a bruised heel. Both were involved in a bit of a mystery.

Both teams were prevented from running through a light, final workout at Shea Stadium today because the frozen field was covered with a tarpaulin. As long as bad weather threatens, the tarp probably won't be removed until some time before the game starts.

NBC will televise the contest nationally, with the New York area blacked out, starting at 12 noon CST.

Ghosts Lose, 80-54

Fond du Lac Hands Kaukauna Setback

FOND DU LAC — Ken Evans and John Bestor paced the Fond du Lac Cardinals to a 40-26 halftime lead as the Cards rolled to an 80-54 non-conference basketball win over Kaukauna Friday night.

Evans finished the night with scoring honors as he tallied 25 points on 11 baskets and three free throws. Bestor added 15 with six baskets and three charity tosses.

Fondy jumped off to a 19-12 first period advantage and outscored the Ghosts 21-14 in the second frame.

Kaukauna found the going just as tough in the second half as the Cardinals scored a 21-10 third quarter edge and a 19-18 lead.

The Cardinals hit on 31 of 68 floor attempts while the visitors connected for only 22 baskets in 63 tries. Fond du Lac added 10 free throws on 29 attempts. The Ghosts collected 10 charity tosses in 22 tries.

'Paper Lion' Opens Area Run Tuesday

"The Paper Lion," the football-accented movie based on George Plimpton's best seller, will open at the Neenah Theater New Year's Eve.

This will be the first area showing for the humorous film which relates the experiences of Plimpton, who tried to become a Detroit Lion quarterback. Playing themselves in the movie will be such football personalities as Vince Lombardi, Joe Schmidt, Alex Karras, John Gordy and Frank Gifford.

Game Postponed Lawrence University's basketball game with Mount St. Paul College scheduled for tonight at Alexander Gymnasium has been postponed because of the weather. The game will be re-scheduled at a later date.

return to the game although no one really noticed it because Oakland had such a big lead.

The Raiders didn't say anything about the thumb until Friday when Rauch finally was asked about it. The same situation prevailed for Wells' bruised heel.

In a telephone news conference which he held with sports writers in New York shortly before the team flew East, Rauch disclosed that Wells, Oakland's ace split end, hadn't practiced all week because of the heel injury.

Rauch said Wells was kicked in the third quarter of the Kansas City game, but the injury hadn't shown up until Tuesday.

The coach said Wells' status was probable while Lamonica's thumb was "pretty good" Friday after being not so good Thursday.

The man who will have to make it all go is quarterback Joe Namath, the league's Most Valuable Player.

"I'm feeling as good or better than I ever have," Namath said.

Pours in 25 Points

Raiche Leads St. Mary to Victory Over 'Wega, 78-65

MENASHA — Sparked by Phil Raiche's 25-point output plus double figure efforts by three teammates, St. Mary High School broke its 5-game losing string by stopping Weyauwega, 78-65, in a non-conference game here Friday night.

The Zephyrs owned a not-too-safe 41-39 lead at halftime but Raiche hit the first five points of the third stanza and later in the period the victors spurred for nine points in a row and were ahead by a comfortable margin from then on.

St. Mary carried a 60-47 advantage into the last segment and its bulges ranged from 10 to 17 points.

Seven Straight

The Indians, trailing 74-57, collected seven straight points to trim the difference to 74-64 with 1:37 remaining but they were unable to complete the miraculous comeback that they needed and Raiche put in a layup to break the spell.

Coach Jim Otte's invaders had experienced all sorts of difficulties in the third period, making only four baskets in 17 attempts while their defense allowed 19 markers to the Zephyrs.

Weyauwega had notched 12 of 14 free throw attempts in the second quarter but it was only accorded two chances from the line in the third, failing on both.

Zephyrs Spurt Ahead The first half had been one of spurts. The Indians had held a 17-15 edge at the close of the first period but the Menashans raced ahead by eight points midway through the second.

With St. Mary in front, 30-22, it was 'Wega's turn to rally and in a short span it recorded an 11-advantage to take a 33-31 lead.

The score was deadlocked at 33, 35 and 37 until two free throws by the Zephyrs' Pat Hermus and a long shot by Dave Lotzer produced a 4-point edge, which was slimmed in half when Jack Meidl scored a layup after making a steal, leaving the score at 41-39 at intermission time.

The second quarter was filled with offense. St. Mary chalking up a 25 to 22 edge, and both teams experienced good free throw shooting. Weyauwega, as mentioned before, hit 12 of 14, giving it 14 of 19 for the first half. St. Mary made 11 of 14 in quarter No. 2 and went 15 of 23 for the first two. For the game, the victors notched 30 of 47

Red Wings Tie Philadelphia On 3-3 Score

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings played shake up Friday night, but the results weren't too earth shaking.

The Wings managed to tie the West Division Philadelphia Flyers 3-3 in their National Hockey League game. And although Detroit outmuscled them and carried most of the play, it never could get in the lead.

Detroit, which trails in the East Division, has managed only a 6-6-4 record against the expansion clubs, the worst showing by any of the established teams.

But the Wings could hardly be criticized much for their play Friday. They checked hard and outshot the Flyers 27-20. Philadelphia didn't get a shot on Detroit goalie Roy Edwards until the game was 9:07 old, but then Leon Rochefort scored a 30-foot slap from the corner.

Edwards was playing in place of Roger Crozier in one of the team's line-up changes. Meanwhile, lines were juggled, too.

Not only did players switch, but General Manager Sid Abel and Coach Bill Gadsby switched places for the game, with Gadsby observing from the press box and Abel working from the bench.

Although the game was low scoring, the traditional contest was closely fought, with neither squad leading by more than five points until the alumni pulled away in the last four minutes.

Leading the graduates' scoring was Korth with 12 points, while Johnson added 11. Beck Goldbeck tied Korth for game honors with 12 for the FVL and Chuck Hildebrandt broke into double figures with 10.

Alumni from 1957-63 defeated alumni from 1964-66 in a preliminary game, 61-20.

The box score: FVL (10-11-9-15 — 45) Bootz 3 0 1; Unke 1 0 1; Mattiek 3 1 3; Hildebrandt 4 2 4; Mindel 1 0 1; Hannemann 0 2 0; Wood 0 0 1; Petermann 0 3 3; Goldbeck 5 2 0; Meitner 0 1 0; Totals 17-11-13. FTM 7.

FVL Alumni (11-9-11-17 — 48) Johnson 4 3 3; Potter 1 0 1; Tiedt 1 4 1; Mueller 1 2 1; Korth 6 0 0; Tiede 0 3 1; Miller 3 0 2; Zelmer 3 0 2. Totals 38-12-12. FTM 5.

Steady rain soaked this lakefront city Friday and into the early morning hours of Saturday but the tarpaulin-covered field at Cleveland Stadium was protected from the elements.

Unless there is unexpected heavy precipitation Sunday, Cleveland officials indicate the field will be at least as good as it was last week when the Browns upset the Dallas Cowboys 31-20 for the Eastern Conference crown.

Michigan Beats Gopher Icemen

WISCONSIN SIX WHIPS OSU IN BIG TEN PLAY

MADISON (AP) — Michigan pitched a slug of dynamite into the final period nets Friday night, and blew a stunned Minnesota out of the Big Ten ice hockey tournament.

The Gophers, favored to repeat as conference champions, led 4-1 with 1:34 elapsed in the third period when Michigan exploded for five consecutive goals and a 6-4 victory.

The upset places Michigan opposite Michigan State for the title tonight. Wisconsin eliminated Ohio State 10-2, and meets the shaken Gophers for third-place.

Paul Gamsby put in the goal that tied the game 4-4 with 10:14 gone in the final period of Michigan's triumph, and teammate Bryan Slack made it 5-4 after stealing a pass.

Gamsby had two goals for Michigan, the only one on his team to score more than one.

Bert DeHate and Matt Tocherman each scored twice for Wisconsin. The Badgers found the mark four times in the opening period, and led 5-0 before Ohio State could get the puck past goalie Bob Vroman.

The Badgers then scored five times more before the losers got their No. 2 tally.

Wisconsin banged at the goal more than their opponents. Vroman and his reliever, John Anderson, were called upon to make 12 saves while Ohio State's Chris D'Addio was busy fending off 36.

Browns, Colts May See Snow

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer CLEVELAND (AP) — A cold, cloudy day with snow flurries and temperatures in the upper 20s is the outlook for Sunday's National Football League title game between the favored Baltimore Colts and the Cleveland Browns.

Steady rain soaked this lakefront city Friday and into the early morning hours of Saturday but the tarpaulin-covered field at Cleveland Stadium was protected from the elements.

Unless there is unexpected heavy precipitation Sunday, Cleveland officials indicate the field will be at least as good as it was last week when the Browns upset the Dallas Cowboys 31-20 for the Eastern Conference crown.

Coach Blanton Collier sent the Browns through a long drill on the sudden turf at Case Western Reserve University Friday. Baltimore worked out at home and then flew into town Friday night. The Colts planned to limber up briefly at the stadium today.

Collier is expected to stick with the same line-up that overpowered the Cowboys. Charley Harraway and Ernie Green probably will split the running back shores as Leroy Kelly's partner. Jack Gregory, a second-year man, again will start as defensive right end with the veteran Bill Glaz, recovered from fractured ribs, ready for relief work if needed.

Baltimore has decided to not-rotate Timmy Brown, the half-back who has been used mainly as a kick return specialist. Brown was off the roster last week due to a pulled muscle.

Gail Cogdill, veteran flanker picked up from Detroit in mid-season, will be dropped off the active list.

Former varsity basketball players of Fox Valley Lutheran High School tried on their old uniforms Friday night and found the fit to their liking as they nipped this year's FVL varsity, 48-45.

The lead was as slippery as the streets outside as the game see-sawed for better than three quarters, with the score being tied five times.

Menasha Firemen Pact Includes 2-Step Hikes In Pension, Vacations

MENASHA — Pension and vacation pay increases for the city's firemen will be included in a new contract with the city, approved Friday by the Common Council.

In addition, increases in health insurance premiums paid by the city are to be taken up by the council next month.

Through two other items brought by Local 698 Menasha Fire Fighters Association, AFL-CIO, reportedly are subject to future discussion, firemen and aldermen said they consider the pension-holiday insurance package a complete agreement.

The president of the Police-men's Association, Roy E. Rollins, had said Friday it appeared the firemen were being granted a partial settlement after police-men had been told by the council to accept a complete agreement or nothing. The police group, Menasha Local 34, professional policemen's association, is seeking fact-finding to break a stalemate in their bargaining with the city.

Friday night a spokesman for the firemen said that two unsettled items, changes in vacation provisions and pay for men called to work while off duty, are considered minor. The council, according to various officials, views the two items "administrative" rather than negotiable with the union.

The council adopted a salary ordinance continuing present fire department salaries next year except for a recently approved raise for the chief. In addition, four fire captains who are under a separate pension plan from the rest of the department will be given $20 monthly increases next Aug. 1 when the city assumes the full cost of retirement fund contributions for the department.

At present, the captains contribute 4.5 per cent of their pay to their pension plan while the rest of the men contribute 7.5 per cent of their wages to the Wisconsin Retirement Fund.

On Jan. 1 the city will pay the full contribution now made by the captains and 5 per cent of the remaining men's pay into the two retirement funds. On Aug. 1, the captains will receive the pay boost and the city will assume the remaining 2.5 per cent of the remaining men's salaries.

The council also agreed beginning Jan. 1 to pay an additional eight hours wages to all firemen who are off duty on any of seven paid holidays. Men who work on holidays will continue to receive an extra 24 hours pay as at present. Action is planned the first part of next month to increase from 70 per cent to 80 per cent the city-paid share of health insurance premiums.

Alderman Ronald Schourie was the lone alderman of 10 present to vote against the agreements approved Friday. He said he had been approached by an unidentified person who suggested that the pay raises for the four fire captains were unequal to the terms approved for the rest of the department.

Aldermen Sumner Parker replied that the council should accept the terms approved by the firemen's association, which Parker said speaks for all the men in the department.

The council refused to act on provisions proposed by Mayor John Klein for the city also to pick up the full tab for retirement fund payments of non-union employees and officials.

Alderman Parker and William Erickson, finance chairman, said the benefits were beyond the bounds of what the council already had discussed. Others added that the special council meeting had been called only to discuss the firemen's benefits.

Alderman Herbert Batley said he has other plans for the evening and he refused to stay for a discussion proposed by Erickson to take up the mayor's proposal. Klein said he would insist that the measure be considered at a future date, but the council adjourned without discussing it further.

Further pension changes for next year are unlikely since administrators of the state fund in Madison must be notified before Jan. 1. Mayor Klein, on urging from City Atty. Richard Steffens, said he would send a city employee to deliver Friday night's resolution to Madison Monday.

Heavy Court Load Helps Show Need For Second Circuit

OSHKOSH — The addition of 150 cases to the heaviest calendar in its history will back the petition to the state Legislature in mid-January requesting the opening of a second branch of the Third Judicial District Circuit for Winnebago and Calumet counties by July 1, 1969.

Assemblyman Jack D. Steinhilber, R-1st District, Oshkosh, has prepared a resolution pointing out the urgent need for opening the second branch before Jan. 1, 1970. In its 1967 session, the Legislature established a second branch of the circuit court for this district, to be in operation by the first of 1970.

Steinhilber will present the proposal to the joint legislative council early in January. "The sooner the second branch of the circuit court opens, the better," William E. Crane, circuit court judge, said Friday. "Since October, we have cleared more than 60 cases from our calendar, assisted by our county judges and judges assigned from courts outside our area."

"However, new litigations have been entered which leave us where we started, plus more," he commented.

"The 90 criminal cases for the students at Oshkosh State University involved in the Nov. 21 demonstration have been referred to the court by Judge James V. Sitter, County Court Branch 3," he said. "In addition to our regular calendar, there are at least 50 new civil jury cases."

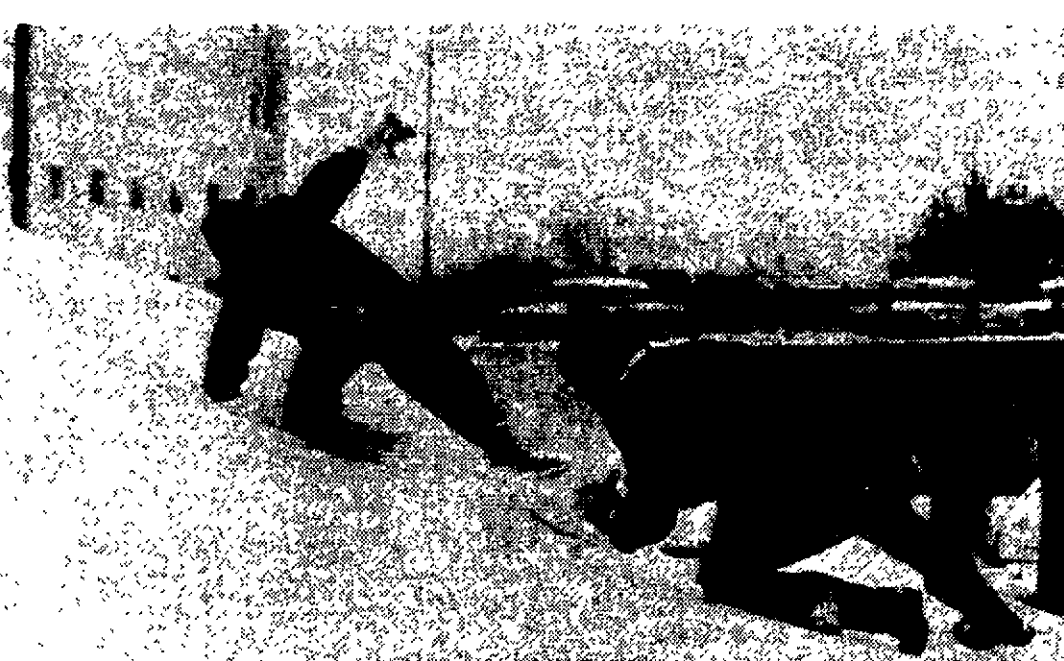

Litigation in both Winnebago and Calumet counties, according to Judge Crane, is the heaviest they have ever been.

The county board supervisors' room has been approved for use by the second branch circuit court and the county board has provided funds for the second circuit judge's salary supplement, an office and the necessary staff for the last six months of 1969.

The Winnebago-Calumet Circuit has been ranked by court administrator Edwin Wilkie as the second busiest court in Wisconsin.

A judge for the second branch of the third judicial circuit court will be elected in April, 1969. If the earlier opening of the second court is approved by the legislature, it would mean that the judge's regular six-year term of office would begin six months earlier and he would serve only five years and six months.

Four lawyers and a judge have indicated their interest in the second circuit seat. Judge Sitter is considering running for the office. Gerald Engeldinger, corporation counsel for Winnebago County said he will seek election. Edmund P. Arpin, Neenah attorney, and Thomas Williams, Oshkosh attorney also are possible candidates.

As Parents Grumpily wondered when the snow was finally going to stop, the kids were frolicking in a new white carpet on their favorite sliding hill at Island Park in Neenah Friday afternoon. The heavy snowfalls this month have taxed city snow removal funds as well as the backs of shovelers but the vacationing children couldn't be happier. (Post-Crescent photos by Robert Vander Walker)

Urban Affairs Professor Feels

Valley in Good Economic Shape

OSHKOSH — Dr. Millan Vuchich, chairman of the Oshkosh State University Urban Affairs Department, said last week that the economy of the Fox River Valley is definitely better than last year at this time.

"The Valley is entering the new year in a much better position," he said, commenting that industrial employment has improved to the point of a tight labor market.

who spent his entire business career with the Neenah firm, was active in his profession and in the community.

He was president of the Fox Valley chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management and was president of Attic Theatre, Inc. He also was business manager of the community theater.

Surviving him is a sister in New York and three sons, two in Connecticut and one in Neenah.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m.

"about where it was two years ago."

Indications are," he said, "that if the national economy doesn't slow, our local economies will fare well during the coming year, especially communities which manufacture consumer goods."

But Oshkosh, which depends largely on production of producer goods, will be even more dependent upon the national economic performance.

Dr. Vuchich, a regional urban economist, said he doesn't expect any national economic slowdown for the first six months of 1969. There could be some softening of the valley economy later in the year.

The potential for economic slowdown, he said, is greater in 1969 than it was evident in the current year.

In Oshkosh, the social overhead (public facilities) must increase if the city is to keep up, the OSU professor has warned.

He said Oshkosh has fallen behind on providing streets, schools and public utilities. Fast growth within the past several years has added to the need.

"Acute Problem"

"The problem is acute," Dr. Vuchich evaluated, particularly because the city's income is not conducive to getting things done quickly. Oshkosh, he emphasized, needs long-range plans.

Currently, Oshkosh is being forced to do something about its problems. New federal anti-pollution standards, state orders, and the needs of private development are forcing action, Dr. Vuchich indicated.

"Implementation must come from the local scene," he declared. "That is the only way to organize and control the forces which create the problems."

He advocated concerted action by city and county governments, the private sector and city leadership to solve the community's acute problems.

Looming large on the horizon is a promised April referendum seeking to recall council-manager government, sure to be a delaying factor in municipal action. A change in council personnel at the April election could hamper or help the attack on community problems.

The future of the city's central business district and the physical growth of the entire city depend to a great extent on how community problems are handled, Dr. Vuchich said.

He commented that municipal funds present a difficult problem. The city must look to the state for aid because its fiscal structure is stronger than the local one. The Oshkosh community is further hampered in solving its problems by not yet receiving federal and state help from the Urban Development Program, he added.

Snowfall Establishes December Record; Still More on the Way

Over Seven Inches Fall During Night; Total on Ground Measures Two Feet; Roads Are Hazardous

Winter's icy dealt the Fox Valley a staggering blow overnight with strong gusts of wind dumping more than seven inches of fresh snow over the area. Total snowfall for the month shattered a 43-year-old record as the depth approached two feet.

More of the same was on the weather menu today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast shifting winds of 25-35 miles per hour and another three to five inches of white stuff for the next 24 hours.

Wisconsin State Patrol cars operating on interstate highways as well as other major state highways reported all roads to be extremely slippery and hazardous throughout the day.

Throughout Wisconsin it was snowing over the entire state this morning and drifting as well.

"Travel was not recommended. Motorists who must drive should use extreme caution," the State Patrol said.

Outagamie County and local law enforcement agencies reported highway and public works department crews were waging a battle against the elements to keep primary roads open in the city and rural areas.

Shortly before 10 a.m. today Frank Keuler, Appleton public works director, announced that because of the heavy drifting all post-holiday garbage and refuse collections were suspended.

All-Time Record

Keuler said all available manpower and equipment was being put to use to fight the young season's worst snowstorm which helped set an all-time December snowfall record for Appleton.

It was estimated that about 23 inches of snow has fallen locally since the first of the month, eclipsing a record dating back to 1926.

The snow-fighters were reporting that winds of 25 to 30 miles per hour during the forenoon hampered plowing operations in the city and on major state and federal roadways.

However, there was hardly any traffic as motorists took heed of the warnings to drive only if they had to.

No Serious Accidents

Authorities said many cars got stalled over the past 48 hours, but no serious accidents were reported.

The lone exception in the area was an accident early Friday afternoon on ice-slicked U.S. 10 when an Iola-to-Appleton bound truck with a 22,000 gallon milk load left the road and tipped over on its side. The driver, Homer K. Lien, Rural Iola, was uninjured.

Spot checks of communities throughout the Fox Valley spelled out a carbon copy of weather conditions with traffic and business at a near standstill this morning.

Fox River Bus Lines, Inc., the Appleton-based public carrier serving the Fox Cities, halted operations today in the wake of the second major storm in the same number of days.

When Weather Permits

Buses were expected to resume normal schedules when road and weather conditions permit.

All flights of Air Wisconsin, Inc., the feeder airline headquartered at Outagamie County Airport, were grounded since Friday afternoon. A spokesman said there was a possibility of resuming flights later today if the storm subsided.

Major trucking lines in the region cancelled all short and long haul runs during the night and this morning.

Visibility was practically zero, and in some communities, Saturday mail deliveries were suspended.

The Wisconsin Telephone Company office in Appleton reported "heavy traffic" this morning.

And a spokesman for the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co., which had trouble-shooting crews on standby alert, said power troubles in the area were virtually nil.

Weather observers kept their eyes on the barometer which registered a 29.4 reading at 10 a.m. and was still falling. The temperature during the forenoon in the Appleton area today ranged in the low twenties but there was a biting northeast wind.

The shifting wind was clocked at 25 to 35 miles per hour during the forenoon, living up to advance warnings.

Many public buildings in the Fox Valley were closed, and the storm also forced closing of industrial plants in scattered sectors.

Any attempts at snow removal were abandoned during the night and early today as mowrrow and machines were taxed to keep main thoroughfares passable although some had to be relegated to nearly one lane.

Everything at the Outagamie County Airport was officially shut down shortly before 10:30 a.m. today. Although there had been no flights since Friday afternoon, several persons were reported stranded at the terminal office, including port and airline personnel.

Throughout the morning the Wisconsin Division of Highways at Madison updated road and weather notices.

It reported at mid-morning that all highways in the state south of U.S. 8 in the north were covered with frozen rain from Thursday night's drizzle and then blanketed with three to eight inches of new snow.

Only Emergencies

The state agency also recommended emergency travel and then only with extreme care.

While snow was the order of the day in Wisconsin, forecasters turned attention to Sunday, predicting considerable cloudiness and a little colder with a chance of snow flurries. Drops in temperature of 10 to 20 degrees are on tap for tonight.

A potpourri of weather made up the nation's picture with cold waves, major snowstorms, freezing rains, severe thunderstorms and tornadoes reported.

Homer K. Lien, 45, Iola, escaped injury Friday afternoon when his truck, loaded with 22,000 pounds of milk, tipped onto its side on U. S. 10, three miles west of Appleton. Lien, who was bound for Appleton, told Outagamie County police he was eastbound and got too far onto the shoulder of the road.

Milwaukee Law Firm School Board Hires Attorney to Negotiate

BY ARLEN BOARDMAN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Lawrence Gooding, a member of a large Milwaukee law firm, was hired Friday to negotiate a new teachers' contract for the Appleton Board of Education.

At the same time, the board's professional improvement committee, which had handled previous negotiations, was dissolved.

Gooding is a member of Quarles, Herriott, Clemons, Teschner & Noelke, a firm which a board spokesman indicated had considerable expertise in labor relations.

The move, contemplated by the board in recent months, is an attempt to wipe out the bargaining disadvantage the professional improvement committee faced in negotiating with the attorney-represented Appleton Teachers Association (AEA).

"The teachers have chosen to be represented by a lawyer, and we feel the board has been at somewhat of a disadvantage without one in negotiations," commented Charles Buchanan, board president.

Gooding will provide the bargaining strategy and act as board spokesman in bargaining, but the board will lay down guidelines, particularly in financial matters, Buchanan said.

Gooding was one of three negotiators interviewed, and received the unanimous endorsement of the professional improvement committee. Board members approved Gooding with no discussion Friday.

At the same time, the board agreed to send an observer to the negotiating sessions to make progress reports to the board.

Conflict of Interests

The board earlier this year anticipated using Appleton City Personnel Director Jerome Rusch as spokesman, but Rusch later declined because of a conflict of interests with the city.

Board members have felt they were at a disadvantage during the 10-month bargaining session for 1967-68. This ended in a state-appointed fact finder's proposal being approved.

Board members felt that a competent negotiator, not just an attorney, was needed, and indicated Friday they felt the $40 per hour, plus expenses, Gooding will charge would be worthwhile.

Two professional improvement committee members supported their recommendation.

Mrs. Helen Heil noted the fiscal control board had suggested a professional negotiator. "This is an instance when the board of education is taking advice of both the fiscal control board and the (Appleton) Taxpayers Association," she said.

Ronald Roberts felt it was a "good move."

The committee and the AEA bargaining team opened negotiations several weeks ago. However, further talks are expected to be delayed until at least mid-January.

The teachers are seeking a $7,500 base salary, $1,000 over the Jan. 1, 1969 base.

Storm Postpones Recreation Slate

All Appleton Recreation Department activities scheduled for today have been rescheduled for Monday, according to Bud Koehnke, recreation director.

The girls' activities, including kickball, dodgeball and basketball will begin at 8 a.m. Monday at Edison School.

Boys' fifth and sixth grade basketball and team dodgeball will start at 9 a.m. at Franklin School and boys' seventh and eighth grade and high school basketball begins at 9 a.m. at Jefferson School.

All ice rinks are closed today.

Woman, Who Suffered A Stroke Christmas, Is Found Unconscious

An 80-year-old woman, who apparently had been helpless in her westside home since Christmas Eve or Christmas Day, was taken unconscious to St. Elizabeth Hospital today by Larry's Ambulance about 9:15 a.m. today.

Mrs. Mary Verstegen, who reportedly lives alone at 721 W. Lawrence St., apparently suffered a stroke, authorities said.

Her nephew, who went to the house to investigate this morning after neighbors became suspicious over the lack of activity around her home, found her slumped on a floor. He reportedly had to force his way into the house. Appleton police investigated.

All Defendants Related Five Appear in Court On Charges of Theft

Five young people, all related, appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday afternoon on theft charges brought by Appleton police.

Mr. and Mrs. John Knaack, 1715 W. Spencer St., waived their right to a court-appointed attorney and pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a portable stereo record player from the H. C. Prange Co. Budget Store on Dec. 11, 1967.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer ordered pre-sentence investigations for Knaack, 19, and his 20-year-old wife, and continued the felony case to Jan. 10 for sentencing. He released Mrs. Knaack without bond pending sentencing to take care of the couple's small child. Knaack was returned to the county jail where he is serving a six-months jail term for burglary.

John's brother, Jordan W. Knaack, 22, and his 21-year-old wife, both of route 5, Appleton, were charged with the theft of a portable stereo record player from the same store on Dec. 18, 1967.

Schaefer continued their cases to Monday afternoon and released the Knaacks on $500 signature bonds. They asked for the continuance to allow them time to consult their attorney, who was in Chicago Friday.

A continuance to the same date also was granted Linda Paschen, 19, route 3, Kaukauna, who was charged with receiving and concealing a $16 dress stolen by another of the defendants, from Treasure Island. Miss Paschen, who is Mrs. Jordan Knaack's sister, was released on a $100 signature bond and was ordered to reappear in court Monday afternoon.

Appleton detectives, who declined to officially elaborate on the case at this point, explained the charges were brought as a result of information uncovered during investigation of a recent burglary case.

2 AHS Basketball Games to be on TV in February

Two Appleton high school basketball home games this year will be televised on Fond du Lac's KFIZ-TV Channel 34 UHF station.

The board of education Friday agreed to allow the Feb. 14 Appleton West-Fond du Lac game and the Feb. 21 Appleton East-Fond du Lac contests to be televised.

The station has televised several games.

The board decided "to give it a try" this year, but expressed concern whether it would affect attendance. Supt. of Schools William Spears noted the reports indicate it also might stimulate interest in high school basketball.

Spears said that station personnel indicated television camera setups would be possible in both gymnasiums.

Seeking 'Free Print' Buckley Board Bid Dubbed 'Political'

An Appleton Board of Education member has labeled Mayor George L. Buckley's consideration on running for a board post as "political."

Ronald Roberts, who is expected to seek re-election in April, indicated Friday he doubted whether Buckley was serious about running. Roberts released a statement following a board of education meeting.

If Buckley is serious, Roberts said, he should be ready to stay on the board and attend meetings.

"It would be great if he would run and serve," commented Roberts. Buckley claims he is checking the legal aspects of a major running for the board of education.

'Free Print'

However, Roberts feels Buckley's announcement of serious consideration "is just a way to get free print." He

Tuition Policy Approved for School Seniors

Appleton Board Sets Cutoff at Third Quarter

Parents who move from the Appleton school district after their children have completed the third quarter of the senior year won't pay tuition for the final quarter, even if the child stays on at Appleton, the board of education decided Friday.

On a 3-1 vote, the board established the policy, but agreed to consider each case according to the family situation, the child's emotional and physical welfare and other factors.

Mrs. Helen Heil cast the dissenting vote. She said the cutoff point should be at completion of the second quarter.

The decision became necessary when the parents of an Appleton high school girl asked that tuition be waived. State policy says the school may waive tuition of students with senior status.

The board approved the case but decided a firm policy was needed.

Supt. of Schools William Spears said the board could set any cutoff point in the senior year but recommended it be one of the quarters. He added that extenuating circumstances arise in a few cases.

The senior girl this fall was the district's first case.

The board also:

—Learned the 1968 cash deficit was $9,453 but the actual deficit will be $25,000 when custodial and maintenance contracts, retroactive to July 1, 1968, are settled in negotiations. Teachers' pay hikes accounted for most of the deficit.

—Withheld a decision until the Jan. 6 budget cutting meeting on whether to send a delegate to the national school boards convention in Miami, Fla., in April.

—Approved hiring three teachers and the resignation of another. Hired were Mrs. Terry Spaulding, Ronald Cook and David Hilbelick.

2 Suffer Minor Injuries in Crash

Two motorists suffered minor injuries when their autos collided at State 78 and Casseloma Drive northwest of Appleton about 3:30 p.m. Friday.

The drivers were David R. Seefeldt, 26, 414 W. Jennings St., New London, and Diane G. Steinbeck, 18, 386 W. Union St., Wausau. Outagamie County police did not state the exact nature of their injuries.

Police said the Steinbeck auto went out of control while eastbound on 78 and slid sideways into the westbound Seefeldt auto. Damage totaled about $1,200.

More snow overnight pushed the total on the ground up to 23 inches and established a new Appleton record for the month of December. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Los Angeles Crime Rate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles crime rate has been dropping from last year. "Major" burglaries are down 10 percent, and the rate of auto thefts is down 15 percent, said Police Inspector Pete Nagan.

Los Angeles was still about 10 percent below a record accumulated last year when Jimmy Nielson, 40, and Fred Gansel measured it in Jimmy's yard at 1315 E. Frances Street.
